Dear Robert,

Thank you for registering for "Opportunity Zones: State Strategies to Support Investments".

Opportunity Zones are a new federal tax credit designed to stimulate investment in distressed communities across the United States. While the program is administered by the federal government, states took the lead in nominating zones for designation and have a role to play in implementation. Join Stephanie Copeland, CEO of The Governance Project, and Mark Wasky, Vice President and Counsel of the Indiana Economic Development Corp., on June 6th at 1 p.m. EDT to learn more about Opportunity Zones and state strategies to attract investment to these new areas.
